WELCOME BACK, HORNETS!
The Office of Student Involvement is thrilled to have you back on campus and we have a great few weeks planned for you! As you may know, students spend 75% of their time in college OUTSIDE of the classroom. And, OSI is here to help you fill that time with your passions and interests and fun!
Be sure to MARK YOUR CALENDAR for KFest 2015: Campus Involvement Fair. This will be a great way to connect with opportunities on campus that will make your time at K great.
And, be sure to attend a Weeks of Welcome event or two. We have so many great things in store for these first few weeks including dance parties, amazing magic shows, laser tag, tons of food, and more!
Finally, I will bring your attention to the Hornet Leader Jump Start series. This series was developed for leaders at all levels. So, whether you are a new student trying to find your leadership voice on campus or you are a seasoned leader who is in an official leadership role, this series has something for you.
Again, welcome back to K! We are so glad you are here. Connect with us so we can help make your time here memorable.

Back to K

The first day of class can be very overwhelming. Here are some tips to keep in mind as you start learning your routine!

INTRODUCE YOURSELF TO YOUR PROFESSORS AND GO TO THEIR OFFICE HOURS. They're nice people. Seriously. And they really like it when someone is interested in their classes.

Tip #1

The Freshman Fifteen does exist. So does the Freshman Twenty. Watch how many starches and processed foods you are eating.

Tip #2

Get involved on campus. All work and no productive socializing is boring.

Tip #3

and most importantly BE YOURSELF!

Tip #4
