Todd Memorial Classics Study Abroad Grant

Ruth N. “Terry” Todd Memorial Classics Study Abroad Grant Fund

Typical award: $1,000

Project Scope: Todd Classics study abroad grants typically provide partial support for students to participate in summer archeological field schools, digs, programs in Classical languages, and other such summer activities.

The number of awards available each year varies according to the earnings of the endowment.

Eligibility:

- student must be Classics major or minor,
- have the endorsement of the Classics Department, and
- have been accepted for summer study in Classics

Procedure: students should submit a letter/email to the CIP, att: M. Wiedenhoeft, Center for International Programs (mwieden@kzoo.edu). In the note please include:

- a brief description of the summer study project in Classics and how it relates to future career plans
- a photocopy of the acceptance letter from the program (if available)
- a letter of support from the K Classics Department (can also be a separate communication/email)
- a brief budget outline of program expenses and funds available to meet them

Proposals are evaluated on how well the project relates to the student’s future career plans, safety and security considerations for projects abroad, and the student’s ability to complete the project.
