The Kalamazoo Comprehensive Fee for Study Abroad
- Includes: Tuition and fees, and food and housing while classes are in session.
- Does not include: airfare, books, personal spending money, food or housing during vacation periods, breaks, after classes have ended, and independent travel.
- Fees for participation in programs not sponsored by Kalamazoo College may be higher than Kalamazoo fee, due to higher operating costs, fluctuation in exchange rates.
- indications of additional charges for programs are given for purposes of illustration only and may not reflect the actual fee assessed.
- In no instance will participants in programs not sponsored by Kalamazoo College pay less than the fee assessed participants in Kalamazoo College programs.
- Typically, the Center for International Programs publishes the list of study abroad comprehensive fees for the next academic year in the spring term.

- Students wishing to petition for one-time only approval of transfer of credit for a study abroad program not listed above must file their petition by November 1.

Detail and instructions are available in the CIP. Programs approved through petition are not eligible for transfer of Kalamazoo financial assistance/scholarships. Only two students per academic year will be approved to participate in a petitioned program.

Read the Fine Print - Important Notes!
- The general policies of the Study Abroad Program at Kalamazoo College can be found in the Academic Catalogue.
- Specific study abroad policies can be found in the Center for International Programs Study Abroad Handbook at https://reason.kzoo.edu/cip/.
- Program details are available in the CIP and at http://kalamazoo.studioabroad.com/index.cfm?FuseAction=Programs.SimpleSearch
- Some programs require a minimum number of participants in order to be offered.
- Students should consider at least two programs as they cannot be guaranteed acceptance into their preferred program.
- Students should not choose a program based on the cost of airfare.
