Kalamazoo College’s Office of Student Involvement (OSI) is offering students the opportunity to attend a variety of summer leadership conferences across the United States. This year, conferences available to Kalamazoo College students to attend: I-LEAD, LeaderShape, Leadership and Involvement Conference, Camp Pride, Social Justice Institute, and the National Conference for College Women Student Leaders (NCCWSL) to help represent our college on a national level. In addition to sharing the “K” experience with others, we hope that our students will gain valuable knowledge on leading others that will help facilitate growth, diversity, and change in the Kalamazoo College community.

OSI will be offering up to 15 scholarships to cover the cost of registration at these conferences. For each of the conferences the registration cost covers housing, food, and participation fees. Additionally, up to $500 per student will be available to reimburse travel costs to and from the conferences (please see delegate contract for details). If selected participants must attend an orientation meeting TBD later in Spring Quarter.

To apply for the Summer Leadership Conference Scholarships provided through the Office of Student Involvement, please submit the following:

1. Current Resume
2. Brief essay explaining the following information (500-1000 words):
   - Your interest in attending a 2015 Summer Leadership Conference
   - Your current involvement on campus and goals for the rest of your time at K
   - What you expect to gain from your experience at the conference
   - How you and the “K” campus community will benefit from your participation in the conference
3. Application Form (attached)

All materials must be returned in a single packet to Mark Campbell in The Office of Student Involvement by Thursday, April 30th @ 5:00pm for full consideration.

Summer Leadership Conference Details

For more information on each of the six conferences, please refer to their web pages.

Reminder- You do not apply through the website! Submit this application to Mark Campbell.

I-LEAD: http://www.acui.org/ilead/

I-LEAD® offers an opportunity for the college students to focus on personal growth and other issues facing our world. The institute prepares students to develop skills that will serve them as leaders in any situation, regardless of role, organization, or environment.

LeaderShape: http://www.leadershape.org/home.aspx

We want to be a part of creating a just, caring, thriving world. Participants of our programs and members of our community know what that world is like because they have tasted it — even if only for a day. And they want more. Until we have that world, there is LeaderShape and we have work to do.

Camp Pride: http://www.campuspride.org/camppride/about-camp/

Campus Pride serves LGBT and ally student leaders and campus organizations in the areas of leadership development, support programs and services to create safer, more inclusive LGBT-friendly colleges and universities. It exists to develop, support and give “voice and action” in building future LGBT and ally student leaders.

National Conference for College Women Student Leaders: http://www.nccwsli.org/students/

AAUW and NASPA proudly present the National Conference for College Women Student Leaders — Leadership for Today and Tomorrow, the only conference that brings together college women to address important and contemporary leadership issues. The conference provides a transformative experience for attendees, and students to return home ready to improve their campuses and their communities.

NACA Huge Leadership Weekend: http://www.naca.org/Events/Pages/hlw.aspx

Huge Leadership Weekend Leadership Academy focuses on the National Association for Campus Activities Core Competencies for College Student Leaders. A variety of competencies guide the educational presentations, group activities, one-on-one contact sessions and small group mentor activities. The goal is to create a balanced educational experience and to provide participants useful and effective leadership skills and tools.

Leadership and Involvement Conference:

http://www.rso.wmich.edu/rsolc.html

The Leadership and Involvement Conference provides participants the environment and tools necessary for participants to learn new skills, connect with other leaders on campus and to plan for their upcoming leadership commitments on campus. The conference will feature educational sessions and workshops designed to teach new concepts and facilitate learning, keynote addresses to inspire and motivate, and social experiences to foster networking and relationship-building.
